Description Provide a short description of the event and its activities.
The volume, “Resilient Voices. Youth-led oral histories in Romania and Italy” was the result of the involvement and hard work of 50 young people involved previously in different Blue4Eu activities, who conducted interviews with 50 stakeholders. The editing process involved group and individual sessions with the editors and the co-authors of the book which involved decision making, selection, organising, transcription, translating, interpreting, analysing and publishing the materials to be relevant to the Blue4EU objectives. The volume brings together 50 oral history testimonies: 30 from Romania and 20 from Italy recorded between 2024 and 2025, originally in Romanian and Italian and subsequently translated into Romanian, Italian, and English, making these personal stories accessible to a wider audience, while preserving the authenticity of the narrators’ voices. The volume comprises four main topics: everyday life under a dictatorial regime - communism in Romania, the 1989 Revolution in Romania - the fall of the communist regime, the transition to democracy - European values and the topic of migration. Beyond its documentary value, this volume has been conceived as an educational resource designed to support the teaching and learning of recent history in schools and other educational settings in Romania and Italy. The testimonies, collected through the work conducted in WP2 and WP3 by young people, encourage students to engage critically with the past through personal narratives, fostering historical empathy and democratic citizenship. This was the first task of this WP, followed was the second task, focused on organising a series of dissemination actions and events both in Romania and Italy, reaching over 300 educational multipliers, including teachers who participated in WP4 and WP5 to the postgraduate courses, who will use the Blue4EU publication in enhancing young people's critical thinking and resilience towards current extremist and anti-EU movements. The volume offers teachers and young learners a starting point for discussions on totalitarian and authoritarian regimes, democratic transition, migration, European integration, fundamental rights and values. The volume is available in English, Romanian and Italian, with a forward written by one of the leading specialists in oral history worldwide and partner in the Blue4EU project: professor Alessandro Portelli.
